Upcoming PPI Workshops and Happenings

Food Forest in a Day: The Plan, the plants, the planting and the “why” behind it. Based on the work of Richard Walker’s 30 years of experience. The workshop will be held on April 22, 2017 Earth Day.

Medicinal Herbs and Plant Walks: Identify, harvest and use with our Herb Specialist Bev Axelsen. The series will start in Spring 2017.

NEW! Paradise Valley PermaSprouts: What is the best way to spread the word about permaculture to really make a difference in our future? Permaculture for Children!

Paradise Transition Gardens: Assisting people without gardens or those switching to more sustainable practices to begin for ease of care and more abundant produce!

We need your help.

Rolling High Tunnel: We are fundraising for a structure on a track equivalent to a moveable greenhouse! This will allow us to grow a variety native plants and cold climate varieties that will produce edibles specifically selected to be successful in our bio-region to use in our workshops and share with the community. Thanks to the generosity of some wonderful supporters, we are pleased to offer special perks in conjunction with suggested donation levels. Please visit our website for descriptions and a full list.
